

Welcome to Grosh

We all have to eat and hence shop groceries regularly. But it's time consuming (can't find stuff in the store) and challenging (forget stuff, have to return). Learn how Grosh tackles this.

What it does

A shopping list app can help you to get organised and be more efficient at grocery shopping. But the current shopping apps are not very innovative and don't provide any intelligence and are often way too complicated to use in comparison with pen and paper. We want to give you the next step - an evolution of shopping apps that really helps you! And it is FREE and always will be.

How it differs from the rest

After rigorous field testing the app, we have streamlined all navigation and made an app that is really fast and easy to work with. At the same time we have built in artificial intelligence helping you remember what you are about to forget whilst you are shopping. And the app learns the layout of stores, such that the list is correctly ordered. This makes it easy to fill your cart without running back and forth in the store.

Why should you care?

Our field trials showed that especially busy parents love using Grosh because it makes them more organized and efficient - and busy parents need all the extra spare time they can get!

The team behind Grosh

Grosh is built by a small team dedicated to bring you the best shopping app ever. Period. We publish frequent free updates and love feedback from our users. We are all avid grocery shoppers, so Grosh is built by grocery shoppers for grocery shoppers.

How to get in touch

You can contact us via our homepage groshapp.com, Facebook, Google+ or tweet us @groshapp.

Kind regards

Søren and the rest of the Grosh team